

Scripture Reflection This Week

In the Baptism of the Lord, we are called to remember our baptism in the Lord. In baptism, all Christians are baptized not only into the Body of Christ, the Church, but also into the mission of Christ to be a priest, prophet, and king to all the nations. We are reminded by the prophet Isaiah that this call to witness to Christ is not something that has to be extravagant.

We do not go crying out, shouting, or always making our voice heard in the street, but rather by living a life constantly devoted to God, following the teachings of the Church, and paying attention to the little things we do for one another in our daily lives, for it is in our little daily actions that help us bring forth justice to the nations.
